The Turkmenistan Investment Forum 2025 (TIF 2025), set to take place on September 18–19 in Avaza, is poised to become a landmark event for all of Central Asia. Amidst global changes, Turkmenistan is confidently opening its doors to international partners, creating new opportunities for investment and economic cooperation.

The forum will bring together business leaders, government officials, and experts to discuss how to build a more sustainable, modern, and globally integrated economy. Over the course of two days, participants will not only hear about reforms, initiatives, and development plans but will also have the chance to build direct connections, explore concrete projects, and identify areas for mutually beneficial collaboration. The agenda includes strategic panel discussions, sector-specific investment presentations, B2B and B2G meetings, expert workshops, and cultural networking events. The forum aims to be a space where ideas become action and conversations lead to long-term partnerships.

Why Participate?

The forum will convene senior government officials, international investors, business leaders, and sector experts to explore opportunities for sustainable economic development and global integration.

- Strategic Access to a Rapidly Evolving Market: TIF 2025 serves as a strategic gateway for businesses seeking to navigate Turkmenistan’s evolving policy landscape and tap into Central Asia’s rapidly emerging markets.
- Growing International Interest: Attracting over 1,200 delegates from 46 countries, the previous forum highlighted Turkmenistan’s rising profile as a strategic economic partner, with TIF 2025 set to build on this momentum by deepening cross-border cooperation and long-term investment ties.
- Focus on Concrete Outcomes: Previous forum showcased its ability to drive tangible results, with 18 agreements and MOUs signed across key sectors—including energy, chemicals, textiles, transport, and environmental protection—while TIF 2025 aims to build on this success by unlocking well-structured, high-impact investment opportunities.

Focus areas of the forum include:

- Investment Climate & Economic Strategy
- Energy
- Transport & Logistics
- Digital & Green Transformation
- Agriculture & Food Processing
- Trade & Market Access
- Sustainable Infrastructure & Climate Action
